Notice.

THE co-partnership of ELISHA WINTERS, and Co having expired, they offer for SALE the following property:—

A compleat and well-chosen assortment of DRY GOODS, well adapted to the present and approaching season.

A two story BRICK HOUSE on Main-street, an excellent situation for business.—It has valuable and well known tract or parcel of LAND, situated at the mouth of Tate's creek, 15 miles from Lexington, on the main road leading to Madison courthouse, containing 1000 acres; 200 of which is excellent bottom, the remainder hilly, but well timbered; 80 acres cleared, and five acres in timothy meadow, and twenty more can be made and watered with very little expence.—

On the upper part of this tract is erected a MERCHANT and GRIST MILL—the situation is perfectly secure either from back water from the river, or floods in the creek.—The house is fifty feet by forty with four floors.—The merchant mill has a sixteen feet pitch back water wheel, double geared, French Burr stones; with boulding, hoisting, screening, fanning and packing work, by water.—The Griff Mill has a 12 feet waterwheel, over 40 ft of double gearing; the whole new and in compleat order.—The water empties from those mills into a pond, whereon stands a saw mill in good repair, and a new hemp mill.—There is also on the premises, a new Frame Dwelling house, kitchen and store house with a number of useful cabbins, and a large and never failing spring convenient; a Roof-WALK covered 250 feet, and may be extended over a level piece of ground 150 fathoms with every apparatus suitable for manufacturing cordage; a young bearing pea orchard; also a number of bearing apple trees.

A DISTILERY within forty yards of the mills, with overhead waterers.—The stills containing about 375 gallons, with every thing necessary for distilling.

A WAGON, with four good horses, a few head of cattle, and a large stock of hogs.

As the above property is situated in a thick settled fertile part of the country, where the greatest abundance of produce may be collected, and the land abounds with good timber for boat building, and a very convenient spot for that purpose on the bank of the river Kentucky.—It is evident that boats for the Mississippi trade, can be built and loaded at the mouth of Tate's creek with more convenience less expense and greater dispatch than at any other landing in the state.—

The mills are now well supplied with feathered flower barrels; and there are six boats on the stocks, that may be finished in a short time.—The purchaser can have choice of two or three if required.—The payments will be made easy, and the greater part received annually in produce.

E. WINTERS.

J. WINTERS.

JOHN M'DANELL,

CONGRESS.

SATURDAY, December 12.

This day the Senate of the United States waited on the President with the following address, in answer to his speech to both houses of Congress, at the opening of the session.

To the President of the United States.

Sir,

It is with peculiar satisfaction that we are informed, by your speech to both houses of congress, that the long and expensive war in which we have been engaged with the Indians north west of the Ohio, is in a situation to be finally terminated; and though we view with concern the danger of an interruption of the peace so recently concluded with the Creek, we indulge the hope, that the measures you have adopted to prevent the flame, if followed by those legislative provisions that justice and humanity equally demand, will succeed in laying the foundation of a lasting peace with the Indian tribes on the Southern as well as the Western Frontiers.

The confirmation of our treaty with Morocco, and the adjustment of a treaty of peace with Algiers, in consequence of which our captive fellow citizens shall be delivered from slavery, are events that will prove no less interesting to the public humanity, than they will be important in extending and securing the navigation and commerce of our country.

As a just and equitable conclusion of our depending negotiations with Spain, will essentially advance the interest of both nations and thereby cherish and confirm that harmony and good understanding which we have at all times desired to maintain, it will afford us real pleasure to receive an early confirmation of our expectations on this subject.

The interesting prospect of our affairs with regard to the foreign powers, between whom and the United States controversies have subsisted, is not more satisfactory, than the review of our internal situation; if from the former we derive an expectation of the extinguishment of all the causes of external discord, that have heretofore endangered our tranquility, and on terms consonant with our national honor and safety, in the latter we discover those numerous & wide-spread tokens of prosperity, which in a peculiar manner distinguish our happy country.

Circumstances thus every way auspicious demand our gratitude and sincere acknowledgements to Almighty God, and require that we should unite our efforts in imitation of your enlightened, firm, and persevering example, to establish and preserve the peace, freedom, and prosperity of our country.

The objects which you have recommended to the notice of the legislature, will, in the course of the session receive our careful attention, and with a true zeal for the public welfare, we shall cheerfully co-operate in every measure that shall appear to us best calculated to promote the same.

JOHN ADAMS, Vice-President of the United States, and President of the Senate.

To which the President was pleased to make the following reply:

GENTLEMEN,

With real pleasure I receive your address, recognizing the prosperous situation of our public affairs; and giving assurances of your careful attention to the objects demanding legislative consideration: and that with a true zeal for the public welfare, you will cheerfully co-operate in every measure which shall appear to you best calculated to promote the same.

But I derive peculiar satisfaction from your concurrence with me in the expression of gratitude to Almighty God, which a review of the auspicious circumstances that distinguish our happy country, have excited: & I trust that the sincerity of our acknowledgments will be evidenced by a union of efforts to establish and preserve its peace, freedom and prosperity.

GO: WASHINGTON.

Lexington, January 23.

Tumult in London.

On the 29th of October at least 200,000 people lined the Mall, parade, Parliament street, &c. while the king was passing to and from the parliament house. He was violently hissed, hooted and groaned at, with the cries of No King—No Pitt—No War—&c. the whole way; and when opposite the ordnance office, a ball broke one of his carriage windows, supposed to be fired from a house adjoining the ordnance office. On his return the hissing, groans, and cries were repeated. In passing through the park, the horse guards kept the crowd at a distance, until his majesty alighted, when a considerable tumult took place. The mob followed the state coach as it passed empty from St. James's to the Mews, and to pelt it with stones &c. as almost intently to demolish it. ——So great a crowd was never known before, not even at a coronation.

There was a Race made between Capt. Simeon Buford of Woodford and myself of Bourbon county. Buford was to run his stud known by the name of Mogul, against Bumpard for 1000 dollars. Bumpard fell lame by a mere accident, tho' very fortunate for Capt. Buford that he did. He has since bantered my horse in Kentucky. Now if the gentleman will be as good as his word, I can beat his fine horse Mogul for 500—weight for age, four miles heats, in any time that is reasonable for me to put my horse in order, at the Lexington course.

Mr. CLAIFORNE:

Now Sir, come down, enter into writing with me, to run at May Blackburn's, or at Lexington course if it can be had, on the last Thursday in March, for two or three hundred pounds, the four mile heats, or a distance—weight for age. And in so doing you will very much oblige Your humble Servant,

SIMON BUFORD.
